THE EARTH'S TAIL.

Swedish Physicist Explains the Aurora by a New Theory.

The Swedish physicist Arrhenius has sought lately to explain the aurora borealis by a new theory, says the Chicago American, considering it as the effect of negative electrical discharges from the sun.

These discharges are subject to fluctuations which manifest themselves on the planets more or less strongly, according to the planet's distance, and its position with reference to the solar equator.

Violent discharges take the form of cathode rays, which are the cause of the aurora.

The phenomena extend over the whole earth, but they are especially conspicuous in the polar regions because there the rays are more luminous because of the greater density of the air.

According to Arrhenius, all the planets, like comets, have tails which consist chiefly of negatively electrified particles, but are much less bright than the tails of comets. Even the moon has a tail, which becomes visible during solar eclipses. These phenomena are ascribed to a continual exchange of fine particles of matter which trail behind all the heavenly bodies.

PIANO FINGERING.

Curious Opinion of the Great Master Chopin—Power of the Notes

This is from a fragment of piano fingering left by Chopin: "No one notices inequality in the power of the notes of a scale when it is played very fast and equally as regards time. In a good mechanism the aim is not to play everything with an equal sound, but to acquire a beautiful quality of touch and a perfect shading. For a long time players have acted against nature in seeking to give equal power to each finger. On the contrary, each finger should have an appropriate part assigned it. The thumb has the greatest power, being the thickest finger and the freest. Then comes the little finger, at the other extremity of the hand. The middle finger is the main support of the hand, and is assisted by the first. Finally comes the third, the weakest one. As to this Siamese twin of the middle finger, some players try to force it with all their might to become independent. A thing impossible, and most likely unnecessary. There are, then, many different qualities of sound, just as there are several fingers. The point is to utilize the differences; and this, in other words, is the art of fingering."

WILL BREAK THE RECORD.

Philadelphia Mint to Have the Largest Switchboard in the World.

The largest switchboard in the world is for the new United States mint at Philadelphia. Electricity describes it as follows: "The switchboard is entirely constructed of marble, copper and steel and is six feet high and 36 feet long. There are 18 slabs of pink Tennessee marble, each 1½ inches thick. There are 32 double and triple pole switches, which range from 100 to 1,600 amperes. There are 78 circuit breakers and many meters, all of which combine to make the board an example of mechanical construction. The copper required to connect the generators or dynamos with different switches and current breakers weighs over two tons, and the board complete as it will stand weighs ten tons. The board will carry 5,000 amperes at 110 volts, equal to 10,000 16-candle power lights. The switches have been arranged so that each will turn on either light or power, as may be desired. This was necessary, as there will be no other power aside from electricity used in the new building."

Agriculture for Women.

A course of instruction for women in agriculture and horticulture was opened recently in the school of agriculture, Moscow, with the authority of the Russian minister of agriculture. The subjects included agriculture, stock breeding, rural economy, bookkeeping, dairying, beekeeping, gardening, and arboriculture, theoretical and practical. The course of instruction lasted four months, and was attended by 50 students, whose ages ranged from 17 to 45, and who were either engaged in agriculture or preparing to teach in agricultural schools.

A Few Business Maxims.

After all, the best way to make money is to earn it.

If a man rests he rusts—and if he trusts he busts.

He who expands in prosperity will contract in adversity.

If punctuality is the soul of business it must be immaterial.—Chicago Daily News.
